

Rec Center Report for March 2010

submitted by Scott Armstrong on April 20, 2010

Facility Update:

March was another very busy month at the Rec Center, with almost 3000 visits. Bayfield School was one of our biggest users, with swim classes for both elementary and high school children 8 times weekly. St. Louis School also brought their students for swimming in March. Bayfield's after-school program have been here swimming, recreating in the lounge and racquetball court, and learning to use kayaks and canoes. Eric Iverson is using the lounge during the day for tutoring.

The roof is missing a few patches of shingles on the south side. This seems to happen every year. Steve Dunn and I have had many discussions with experts who repeat their opinion that the roof shingling is being done properly, but the location and size of the roof put great stress on the shingles. An insurance adjuster came today to start the process to repair current damage.

What started as a simple polar bear plunge in 2005 is becoming a major area event. The Bayfield Winter Festival on March 5-7 attracted hundreds of visitors to our town on a typically quiet weekend. We will invite the school to participate next year in any fashion that suits your needs. Both the Electrathon Team and TAP program used the polar bear plunge to raise money.
