

Rec Center Report for January 2010

submitted by Scott Armstrong on February 2, 2010

Facility Update:

January is usually a huge month for the Rec Center, with many New Year's resolutions membership, and last month did not disappoint. Almost 3000 people walked in the doors. Afternoons and evenings are busy with a constant stream of people using every room in our facility. I wrote out 8 different special activities on the daily whiteboard for today. It's great for families to have a place to recreate and play together when it's cold outside.

A new Aerco furnace is now installed and working in tandem with our older furnace. They are most efficient when they are both firing at 20-40% capacity. We have been fortunate enough to obtain a private loan for this unit ($29,300 installed). We expect to pay off this loan in July 2010 when a new $40,000 of capital improvement funding becomes available from the school district, or earlier if more funds become available before that time.

I usually lifeguard the elementary school swim lessons, and have to say that Marilu Stepien-Belanger does an excellent job of teaching swimming and water safety.
